Blissful Radiance

In the garden of my heart, joy blossoms bright,
A symphony of laughter fills the air,
Each moment a canvas painted with delight,
A tapestry of happiness beyond compare.
The sun dances on the waves, a joyful sight,
As seagulls soar on wings of pure elation,
In this world of wonder, everything feels right,
A paradise of jubilation and sensation.
The melody of joy plays in my soul,
A chorus of contentment, pure and true,
In every heartbeat, happiness takes control,
A symphony of bliss, a dream come to.
With every breath, I am filled with glee,
In this world of wonder, joy sets me free.
